EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Charles E. Baxley on September 1, 2004.

The application has been amended as follows:

- 1) In claim 4, line 3: The word "dorm" has been changed to --form--.
- 2) In claim 6, line 1: The number "3" has been changed to --5--.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The examiner respectfully asserts that none of the prior art, taken either singly or in combination, is seen to teach or suggest the use of a gelatinous cushion comprising the particular structural combination of a base member made of fibrous material, a cushioning member attached onto the base member and made of a gelatinous material having a plurality of orifices formed in an outer peripheral surface thereof, and an outer covering film applied onto the outer peripheral surface to cover and to form a smooth outer surface for the cushioning member as specifically recited in Applicant's sole independent claim 1. With regards to the prior art, most conventional gel cushions are simply enclosed within a fabric cover or are merely disposed within a depression or cavity formed in the top surface of a relatively rigid foam base layer. Although the each of the cited prior art references does include the use of a cushion containing both gelatinous and fibrous materials, they only disclose the use of a gel cushion encased within a fabric cover composed of or reinforced with fibers (Lampel '663 and Nwoko '858), a fibrous layer inserted within a chamber containing a viscous gel-like medium (Sereboff '199 and Sereboff '540), or a core sheet formed of fibrous fabric impregnated with a gel (Spence '973 and Spence '420). Hence, it is considered that the application is currently in full and proper condition for allowance.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
